SJM ARTS COLLEGE FOR WOMEN, CHITHRADURGA

VISIT TO INDUSTRY

DATE: 20-2-2018

A visit to Varsha Associates, Chithradurga was arranged on 20-2-2018 for the BA final year students to expose them to various implements used in Agriculture, Horticulture and Livestock. Since many of the students are from rural background and due to urbanization, the land holdings by the farmers is getting smaller and also the rural youth are migrating towards cities, as a result the cultivation of land due to shortage of labor is on the rise. Hence agricultural implements play a vital role in such situations.

The staff members of Varsha Associates explained about the various equipments/implements used for land preparation, sowing and irrigation, inter cultivation, crop care, harvesting, post harvest processing. Further a virtual display was also arranged on the use of aforesaid implements/equipments.

The students based on the briefing by the staff and virtual display could realize the practical utility of these implements/equipments as mentioned below.

1. The use of various equipments in agricultural and allied activities saves lot of time.
2. The use of irrigation equipments helps scientifically to water the crops and prevent wastage of water.
3. The use of various equipments and scientific methods in agriculture/horticulture/livestock increases production per unit area.
4. The small and marginal farmers of a village can come together and purchase various equipments of agriculture to carry out their farming activities in scientific ways.

An exposure visit was arranged on 12-03-2019 for the final year BA students of Economics to Agriculture Produce Market Committee, Chitradurga to have first hand information on the functioning of the APMC's in Karnataka. The officials of APMC, C.S Srinivasa Assistant Secretary and A.G. Surendra babu Junior Supervisor briefed the students on the Act of APMC (2003) which is constituted by the Govt. of Karnataka for the trade of Agricultural, Horticultural and livestock produces. The major functions of APMC' are

- To promote Public Private Partnership among agriculture market.
- To have control over fare pricing of transaction in the market.
- To ensure quick payments for the farmers for their produce.
- Providing market led extension services to the farmer.
- Promotion of Agricultural activities.
- Promotion of a separate market for perishable commodities.
- To ensure that the farmers are not exploited by intermediaries who make the farmers sell their produce at a much lower price

In Karnataka all most all the towns have APMC to enable the farmers to sell their produce at reasonable price. The APMC's have market where traders and marketing agents are provided with stalls and shops to purchase the produce under the supervision of the APMC. The students understand the practical procedures of APMC act, E-Tendering Process of agriculture produce, grading and standardization and electronic weighing of the produce, licensing the merchants and commission agents. The students also observed the farmers transaction with the commission agents. The students were accompanied by the staff Smt. Gayathri P.C. Associate Professor, Sri.
